

On Board 12 today the hand definitely started with the cards in the correct pockets at Table 6 and the hands were definitely still right when it was played at Table 5.

However when the board reached Table 2 the South hand had been swapped with the West hand.

Unfortunately nobody noticed that it had changed by looking at the hand records behind the boards, so the board stayed fouled when it was played at tables 1, 12, 11, 10, 9, 8 and 7.

I cannot tell from the results whether it was played fouled at table 3 and table 4 and at the end of the session it was impossible to work out, so pending advice to the contrary I have assumed that those tables played the board in the original condition.

If somebody tells me otherwise the scores may change slightly because the scores for each table have been compared with other tables who played the board in the same condition – either the original layout or the fouled condition where the South and west hands were swapped.

Sorry about the delay in putting results on the internet today. It was because I had to sort this out.

Cheers

Patrick